HORACE (DICK) AND NAN SCHOOLER

Horace (Dick) Schooler was born April 12, 1934 in Duchesne, Utah. He is the son of Chloe Lewis and Frank W. Schooler. His brothers and sisters are Frank Schooler, Jr., Cleo Buehler, Jay R. Schooler, Annette Jones and Jack Schooler.

When Dick was about a year old his family moved to Keetley, Utah so that his father could work in Sweeney's pole camp. His father also worked in the mines and herded sheep. Dick rode the bus to the old North and Central Schools. He attended Wasatch Junior High and High School in the old building on Main Street that occupied the block between 2nd and 3rd South. 396

Nan Webster Schooler was born March 23, 1940 in Heber, Utah, the oldest child of Evon Wright and Lewis Webster. Her brother and sisters are Judy Webster, Susan Anderson and Lou Von Webster. Nan attended Central Elementary School, Wasatch Junior High and High School. She was married September 11, 1956 to Dick Schooler. Later she attended night school in order to obtain her high school diploma through the Adult Community Education Program.

Karey Lynn, the daughter of Dick and Nan, was born in Heber in 1957 while her father was serving in the United States Army in Germany. Dick was a serviceman from 1955 to 1957. When he returned from active duty, he and his family moved to American Fork, Utah where Dick worked for the city as a maintenance employee. After a year they returned to Heber and Dick found employment in the mines. He labored as a miner until the mines ceased operations. He is presently employed at a Park City ski resort as a building maintenance worker.

A son, Jay L., was born in 1959. He is married to Patti Cox and they have one child, Jay Lee. The Schooler's daughter, Karey Lynn, married Doug R. Allred and they are the parents of a son, Clayton R., and a daughter, Lindsey.

Nan worked at the old Valley Drug for four years and when that store closed down, she became a clerk at the Palace Drug for one year. For the last eleven years she has worked in the Wasatch County Library.

Nan enjoys embroidering, reading, gardening, cooking and sewing. Dick finds recreation in ice-fishing and tubing in the winter. Both Nan and Dick take pleasure in camping with their children and grandchildren. 397
